1 Introduction

For successful completion of the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement, it is essential that the consultation and engagement process be documented to appropriately categorize, and address feedback received. To support the Draft Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement, this Record of Consultation and Engagement (RoCE) for interested persons has been developed to track all incoming and outgoing discussions, correspondence and meetings. This RoCE includes information on how issues have been considered in the context of the Environmental Assessment / Impact Assessment (the Assessment Process).

Although voluntary, this RoCE for interested persons has been prepared as per provincial and federal requirements noted below, as they pertain to interested persons only.

Interested persons are defined as individuals and groups (e.g., associations, non-governmental organizations, industry and academia) who could have an interest in the Community Access Road. This includes, but is not limited to, communities in the region, those with commercial interests (e.g., forestry, trappers, outfitters, other mineral tenure holders in the area) and recreational users or those with recreational interest (e.g., campers, hunters and environmental groups). Interested persons also includes individual members of an Indigenous community that are interested in the Community Access Road (as opposed to official representatives of an Indigenous community).

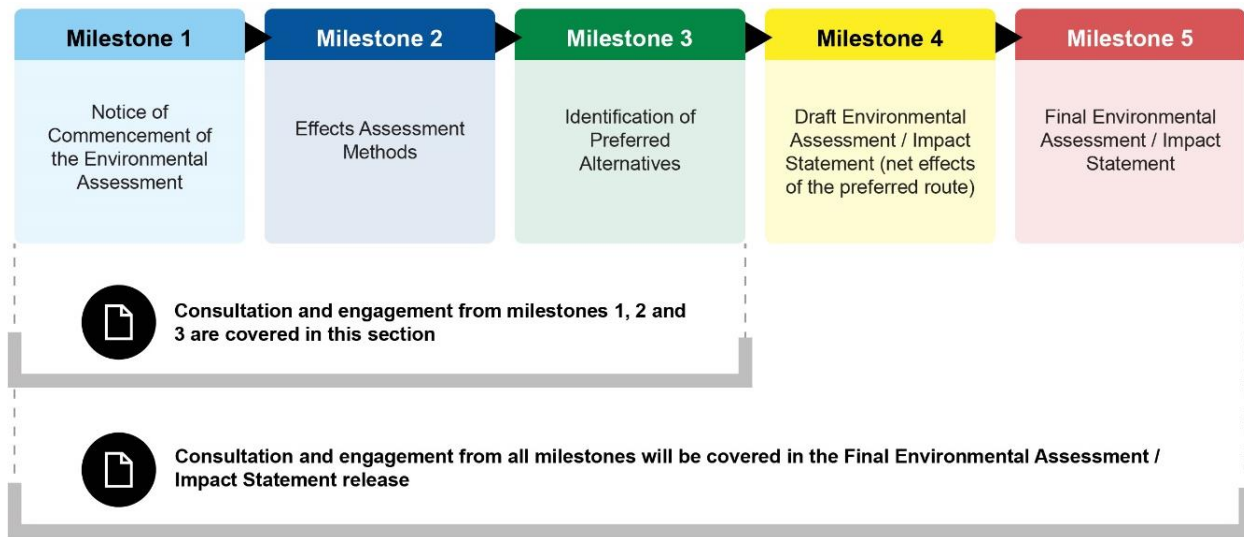

The timeframe of reporting for this RoCE is since the release of the Notice of Commencement (NoC) of Environmental Assessment on October 29, 2021, up to July 31, 2024. Consultation and engagement during the timeframe of this report is related to the following key Project milestones, as described in the Consultation and Engagement Plan to Support the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement (AECOM, 2020c) from the Terms of Reference:

- Milestone 1: Notice of Commencement of Environmental Assessment;
- Milestone 2: Effects Assessment Methods; and
- Milestone 3: Identification of Preferred Alternatives.

Consultation and engagement activities for milestones 1, 2 and 3, along with the remaining two milestones will be included in the Final Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement (Figure 1):

- Milestone 4: Draft Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement; and
- Milestone 5: Final Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement.

A Record of Consultation and Engagement detailing consultation and engagement with all Indigenous communities, government agencies and interested persons will be provided for review and comment with the Final Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement.

The Record of Consultation describing consultation and engagement activities conducted during the preparation of the Terms of Reference can be found on the Community Access Road website.

The Interim Record of Consultation and Engagement (from between the Terms of Reference approval and the start of the Environmental Assessment) can be found here: <https://eais.martenfallsaccessroad.ca/>

1.1 About the Interested Persons Record of Consultation and Engagement

This Record of Consultation and Engagement for interested persons provides an overview of consultation and engagement carried out during the preparation of the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement. The Record of Consultation and Engagement has been prepared to:

- Identify all interested persons consulted during the first three milestones of the Assessment Process and how they were identified (confidential information will not be provided);
- Describe the consultation and engagement activities that took place during the reporting time period including methods, schedule of events, notification that was given about the activity and materials used;
- Describe how interested persons were identified and how they were consulted and engaged;
- Clearly and accurately summarize the issues shared by all interested persons during the Assessment Process;
- Describe the Proponent's response and how issues were considered in the development of the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement;
- Describe any outstanding issues (as identified by an 'incomplete' status in the feedback table);

- Include minutes of any meetings held with interested persons; and
- Include copies of written comments (as identified as issues) received from interested persons.

The RoCE provides a detailed account of all communication exchanged with interested persons, including the following sections:

- Summary of Key Consultation and Engagement Activities Undertaken During Preparation of the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement: An overview of key consultation and engagement activities, including when and where they happened, the number of participants, including any subgroups represented (if available) and a description of the associated information materials provided.
- Summary of Feedback Received and Response / Action: Identifies specific issues / comments raised, the corresponding topic, communication channel, response / action to the issue / comment and how it was addressed or considered in the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement.
- Consultation and Engagement Log: A detailed correspondence tracking table including date the correspondence occurred, method of consultation and engagement (e.g., email, phone call, letter, in-person meeting), whether it was incoming or outgoing, contact name and title, Project Team member involved (e.g., Marten Falls First Nation Leadership, Marten Falls First Nation Community Member Advisor, Marten Falls First Nation Project Team or Marten Falls First Nation Project Consultant) and a summary of the correspondence.
- Appendices: The appendices will include notices, letters, meeting summaries / minutes, presentations and correspondence in the following sections:
 - Notices and Other Information Releases; and
 - Interested Persons (categorized by groups):
 - Incoming and
 - Outgoing.

To show level of effort, the only logistical correspondence (e.g., scheduling a meeting) included in the appendix is when a meeting was not scheduled or was postponed.

1.2 Federal and Provincial Requirements

There are both federal and provincial laws and legislation that set the framework for the Assessment Processes. These are summarized below and were used to develop the Consultation and Engagement Plan.

1.2.1 Federal Requirements

In addition to the Terms of Reference, which is part of the provincial process, there are federal requirements that provide a framework for the Impact Assessment. Federal requirements for engagement on the Community Access Road are outlined in the following documents:

- Tailored Impact Statement Guidelines (Impact Assessment Agency of Canada, 2020a);
- Public Participation Plan for the Marten Falls Community Access Road Project Impact Assessment (Impact Assessment Agency of Canada, 2020b); and
- Indigenous Engagement and Partnership Plan for the Marten Falls Community Access Road Project (Impact Assessment Agency of Canada, 2020c).

1.2.2 Provincial Requirements

A Terms of Reference is the first step in the provincial environmental assessment process and is a roadmap for planning and decision-making. It outlines how an environmental assessment should be prepared, including the studies to be conducted, the process for identifying and assessing the effects of a proposed project, and how people should be consulted.

The Terms of Reference for the Community Access Road was prepared in accordance with the provincial Environmental Assessment Act (Government of Ontario, 1990a) and the Code of Practice: Preparing and Reviewing Terms of Reference for the Environmental Assessments in Ontario (Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks 2014) and was submitted to the Ontario Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks.

The Terms of Reference includes the Consultation and Engagement Plan (AECOM, 2020c), which is used to guide consultation and engagement efforts throughout the Assessment Process. This document serves as a useful reference, particularly the following sections:

- Section 2.1: Principles of Consultation (guiding principles of the Marten Falls First Nation Community-Based Land Use Planning Team for Community Access Road consultation and engagement);
- Section 2.2: Nishnawbe Aski Nation's Consultation Policy; and
- Section 2.3: Duty to Consult (provincial requirements).

2 Identification of Interested Persons

Interested persons are defined as individuals and groups (e.g., associations, non-governmental organizations, industry and academia) who could have an interest in the Community Access Road. This includes but is not limited to, communities in the region, those with commercial interests (e.g., forestry, trappers, outfitters, other mineral tenure holders in the area) and recreational users or those with recreational interest (e.g., campers, hunters and environmental groups). Interested persons also includes individual members of an Indigenous community that are interested in the Community Access Road (as opposed to official representatives of an Indigenous community).

Additionally, Marten Falls First Nation has consulted and engaged with the members of the public, as listed in the Public Participation Plan for the Marten Falls Community Access Road Project Impact Assessment (Impact Assessment Agency of Canada, 2020b), with the following exceptions:

- Anishinabek Nation asked to be removed from the contact list in 2023; and
- Noront Resources Ltd. was removed from the contact list in 2023 following updates from the provincial government. Noront Resources Ltd. was renamed to Ring of Fire Metals and has been re-added to the contact list.

Members of the public and anyone interested in the Community Access Road have been able to join the contact list to receive frequent updates.

Table 1 outlines the consultation and engagement milestones, input and timing. Table 2 provides a complete list of consultation and engagement activities for interested persons. Table 3 summarizes key input received from interested persons and how it has been considered.

3 Consultation and Engagement Milestones, Input, and Timing

Consultation and engagement at each milestone were designed in a stepwise manner to receive feedback on targeted input before advancing to the next stage of the Assessment Process. Table 1 outlines each milestone, the targeted input and feedback requested and timing.

Monthly E-Blasts

Throughout the Assessment Process, newsletters (also known as e-blasts) were distributed via email to approximately 600 people identified on the contact list. E-blasts were distributed monthly and included Community Access Road updates relevant to the month of distribution (e.g., upcoming field programs and engagement activities). Links to the Community Access Road's social media pages and contact information were always included. Additionally, e-blasts were published on the Project website, receiving over 3,200 views. All e-blasts can be found in Appendix A2 (as part of Appendix X).

Field Program Notifications

Several field programs took place during the Assessment Process. To help better understand the field programs related to valued components, field notices were distributed with plain language information about what the Project Team is studying, why it is important, when the field programs are taking place, and what to expect when crews are in the field (e.g., an increase in air traffic as crews travel by helicopter). Field notices encouraged recipients to contact the Project Team if they had any questions or comments. Typically, discussion guides were distributed in advance of field notices with key questions to help shape programs (including timing and locations); however, some field programs required quick mobilization (i.e., winter programs that required recent snow) and discussion guides were distributed at the same time as field notices. Notices were distributed via email to persons identified on the contact list prior to the relevant field program taking place. These notices are provided in Appendix A3 (as part of Appendix X) and on our website (<https://www.martenfallsaccessroad.ca/documents/#notices>).

Webinar and Video Notifications

Notifications for virtual communication and engagement opportunities, such as webinars, were distributed via email to the contact list and posted on social media platforms (including the Community Access Road Facebook page and the private Marten Falls First Nation Facebook pages) on an as needed basis. Notifications included the date and time of the webinar, links for registration, and webinar poster attachments. Reminder emails were sent shortly before the live webinar occurred. Videos were posted to the Project website and included in relevant e-blasts on an as needed basis. Videos were also shared to the Community Access Road Facebook, Instagram, and LinkedIn pages to encourage broader outreach with interested persons. Email information for webinars, along with webinar posters, are provided in Appendix A4 (as part of Appendix X).

4.2 Summary of Interested Persons Consultation and Engagement

The following provides details regarding all public-facing consultation and engagement, as well as specific consultation and engagement with those categorized as interested persons for milestones 1, 2, and 3. Detailed descriptions of consultation and engagement activities are meant to provide context for all groups engaged, and may also include participation from government agencies and Indigenous communities.

Public Information Centre #3

The first round of Public Information Centres during the Assessment Process (Public Information Centre #3) was held on June 27, 2022, in Thunder Bay and on June 29, 2022, in the Municipality of Greenstone (Geraldton), respectively. Public Information Centre #3 provided an update on the Community Access Road, including updates since the Terms of Reference; the Assessment Process; study areas, including specific updates made to reflect potential sources of aggregate material and input received from Indigenous communities; preliminary results of field programs and information on upcoming field programs; overview and importance of Indigenous Knowledge and Aboriginal and / or Treaty Rights and Interests; how Indigenous communities have been involved to date and plans for future consultation and engagement; feedback heard to date and how it is being considered; ongoing and future consultation and engagement opportunities; and next steps.

The following printed and online materials were available for attendees:

- Feedback Form;
- Project Overview Fact Sheet;
- Indigenous Knowledge Program Fact Sheet;
- Community Coordinator Program overview and Job Posting (for Indigenous communities);

6 Summary of Feedback Received and Response / Action

Table 3 summarizes issues raised by interested persons from October 29, 2021, to July 31, 2024, the related responses / actions, and notes where feedback has been addressed or considered in the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement. Note some issues were received from interested persons before October 29, 2021, and were responded to after October 29, 2021, therefore they are included in this report. The majority of feedback provided was categorized as an interest or comment and not an issue. An issue is defined as a question, statement, data, and / or information brought forward by an Indigenous community, government agency, the public or other interested persons that has the potential to influence the Assessment Process. A full interest / comment list will be included in the Final Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement.

A detailed record of the efforts made to consult and engage with interested persons from October 29, 2021, to July 31, 2024, is provided in the following section. All feedback provided, including an interest or comment, is included in the communication log for each respective group and separated by year in Section 7. Mass communications which were the same messaging distributed to all interested persons are included in Section 8.

In addition to federal and provincial regulations, the Community Access Road meets Marten Falls First Nation requirements. It was also noted that the Community Access Road does not include a road to the Ring of Fire. The road to the Ring of Fire is a separate project, called the Northern Road Link Project, which if built would connect to the Project. The Project requires both a federal Impact Assessment and provincial Environmental Assessment. As such, the Project will go through a coordinated provincial / federal process referred to as the Environmental Assessment / Impact Assessment process.• To meet the provincial requirements, the Project Team prepared a Terms of Reference in accordance with the provincial Environmental Assessment Act (Government of Ontario, 1990a). While the 1990 version of the Act is the overarching regulation, amendments are made from time to time and the Terms of Reference was developed in accordance with the regulations in place at the time of submission, and the Environment Assessment was developed in accordance with updates in place at the time of submission.• Additionally, the Project Team has identified 23 Indigenous communities, Tribal Councils and Provincial Territorial Organizations that have the potential to be impacted by the Community Access Road. These groups have been, and will continue to be, consulted and engaged on activities related to the Community Access Road and have been encouraged to share feedback on the Assessment Process.• The Agency is leading the regional assessment, and comments provided were forwarded to the Agency regarding a comprehensive, Indigenous co-led and co-enforced Regional Impact Assessment of the Ring of Fire so they can reply directly.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Section 5 Roles of the Regulators• Section 11 We Listened

It was also noted that based on the results of the fish and fish habitat assessment completed for the Community Access Road on September 8, 2019, it is acknowledged that there is potential spawning habitat for Brook Trout at the Dusey River crossing. The Dusey River was surveyed 100 metres upstream and 200 metres downstream of the proposed crossing. The crossing was in flat habitat with mixed substrates of cobble, gravel, boulder, sand and silt. In addition to the spawning habitat, the surveyed section has moderate to high overwintering potential for most fish species as average water depths were greater than 1 metre. Rearing habitat (i.e., areas where larval and juvenile fish find food and shelter) was rated as moderate for large bodied species such as Walleye and Brook Trout and for small bodied species such as Brook Stickleback. Potential rearing and spawning habitat for Northern Pike was low due to limited aquatic vegetation. The mix of coarse substrates provides moderate potential spawning habitat for large bodied fish (e.g., Walleye, White Sucker and Brook Trout). Fish sampling in the Dusey River was also conducted for the Community Access Road in 2019 and for the Cliffs Chromite Project in 2012. No fish were captured in 2019; however, one Yellow Perch and two unidentified darters were observed. Brook Trout, Yellow Perch, Longnose Sucker, White Sucker, Shorthead Redhorse, Pearl Dace, Common Shiner and Blacknose Shiner were captured during the 2012 Cliffs Chromite Project fish sampling program.• Additionally, the email response also noted that the Environmental Assessment will also assess potential effects of the alternative routes on fish and fish habitat by evaluating potential effects to fish habitat quantity and quality, use and access to habitat and migration, and survival, reproduction and abundance. This includes assessing potential effects from placing crossing structures on waterbodies and potential effects from changing public access to recreational angling areas.• The response also noted that the Community Access Road Project's goal is to design measures and mitigation strategies to maintain existing environmental conditions to the extent possible with any potential effects being minimized or avoided altogether. The organization noted they support the extension request due to the reasons provided, particularly concerns related to the pandemic. The Wildlife Conservation Society Canada noted that the Proponent and the Agency chose not to pause the Project despite requests from other First Nation communities. The organization is concerned about the ability of Ontario, specifically the Ministry of the Environment, Conservation and Parks to manage the three individual roads in the area. It was noted that as a First Nation Proponent also having dealt with pandemic related struggles and community losses, further delaying the Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement process for the Community Access Road would negatively impact the Marten Falls First Nation community. However, the Impact Statement extension provides an opportunity for further collaboration and working with Indigenous communities to find the best ways to consult and engage on the Community Access Road. The extended Terms of Reference review period totaling 126 days as opposed to mandated 30 days was also noted. The Community Coordinator Program and Indigenous Knowledge Program were referenced as an additional effort to accommodate needs and capacity of interested Indigenous communities to participate in the process. It was also noted that the Community Access Road is distinct from other road projects in northern Ontario and is in a different Environmental Assessment / Impact Statement stage. It was recommended to contact Ontario and the Agency directly with any concerns about their ability to manage the referenced other road projects. Additionally, it was noted that the Impact Statement extension request was partially influenced by the delay in field programs starting and need for multi-year data collection required by the Tailored Impact Statement Guidelines. An offer to meet and discuss concerns was made. The Impact Statement Phase Extension Request Work Plan (AECOM, 2022b) was influenced by delays resulting from the COVID 19 pandemic, summer 2021 forest fires, winter 2021 / 2022 heavy snow conditions and unforeseen regulatory requirements. These resulted in delays to field programs. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Section 5.1 Regulatory Framework Section 8 Life on Our Land

Once the assessment of effects is completed, mitigation strategies will be developed and conversations will be held with all outfitters potentially affected by the Project. The Marten Falls First Nation Community Access Road Project Team included the notice for Public Information Centre #3 in Thunder Bay and Geraldton, encouraging Patrick Cloutier to attend and learn more about the Project's status and timeline. It is the Project Team's understanding that the Andomoozwe Outfitter camp is located to the west of the Ogoki Lake Provincial Park. The Preferred Route is well east of the Provincial Park and so impacts to the outfitting camp from the Community Access Road are not expected. The outfitter camps that are in proximity to the road have been identified and assessed as part of the Land and Resource Use Valued Component. The letter noted that as a First Nation Proponent also having dealt with pandemic related struggles and community losses, further delaying the EA / IS process for the Community Access Road would negatively impact the MFFN community. However, the IS extension provides an opportunity for further collaboration and working with Indigenous communities to find the best ways to consult and engage on the Community Access Road. The extended ToR review period totaling 126 days as opposed to mandated 30 days was also noted. The Community Coordinator Program and Indigenous Knowledge Program were referenced as an additional effort to accommodate needs and capacity of interested Indigenous communities to participate in the process. It was also noted that the Community Access Road is distinct from other road projects in northern Ontario and is in a different EA / IA stage. It was recommended to contact Ontario and the Agency directly with any concerns about their ability to manage the referenced other road projects. Additionally, it was noted that the IS extension request was partially influenced by the delay in field programs starting and need for multi-year data collection required by the TISG. An offer to meet and discuss concerns was made.
